FROM WEST TO EAST: SENIOR LAWYER APPOINTED

A public sector lawyer has moved over 250 miles from the West Country to take up a key position at a Suffolk council. Babergh District Council has appointed Karen Trickey as its new Head of Legal and Administrative Services. Karen, previously the Legal and Member Services Manager at Caradon District Council in Cornwall, will be responsible for Babergh's legal, committee services and electoral registration teams.

"I am delighted to be joining such a well-regarded council which, in a changing world, is striving to become even better" said Karen Trickey.

Ms Trickey gained her Law degree in 1991 from Southampton University, followed by her solicitors finals from the College of Law in Chester. After working in the private sector, she joined Caradon District Council in 1995.

Ms Trickey joins a few months after Babergh recruited Quentin Baker as its Legal Services Manager. Previously, Mr Baker was a Senior Solicitor at Essex County Council.

Commenting on these appointments, Pat Rockall (formerly Barnes), Babergh's Chief Executive said "we are tremendously pleased by Karen's appointment. I have no doubt that her extensive experience and enormous talent, alongside those of Quentin Baker and other members of her team, will prove invaluable to Babergh in the years ahead."
